

Movies: 832
 Comments: 23588
 Members: 539
 Online: 0 Guests: 11

Corona-Plus Treatment Vetaphone Corona-Plus treaters for perfect surface adhesion www.vetaphone.com
Crash Recorder Gratis einbauen. Der Beweis Ihrer Unschuld bei einem Unfall. Hier informieren! AXA-Winterthur.ch
Orange CineDay 2 for 1 cinema tickets for Orange Mobile subscribers. Every Tuesday. orange.ch/cineday
 Ads by Google

Indie Coming Attractions: Blood Fare

Posted by Patrick Sauriol on Monday, September 20, 2010

[Writer's note: While the main focus of Corona's Coming Attractions has always been to keep its pulse on mainstream and Hollywood movie productions, there exists a thriving, diverse indie film scene further out there; projects that have passionate creators, stars and crew but also face the challenges of not having enough resources or finances to solve all their problems as easily as the big players do. I've been approached by representatives for a lot of indies, asking for a chance to have a little bit of exposure for their hard work. "Indie Coming Attractions" will do just that and let you know about these productions. -- Patrick]

In production by Warrior Entertainment, Blood Fare is described by its creators as a "Civil War ghost story with a twist." It is the story of Corporal Henry Trout, a soldier that fought on the battlefields and died on the field of combat in 1861. In 2011, Trout's spirit will come face-to-face with his descendants five generations removed as the battle of Bull Run resumes upon a haunted battlefield. The lines between the living and the dead will become blurred and it will be upon Trout's great-great-grandchildren, Tyler and Chad, to face the legend of Charon the Ferryman, the infamous gatekeeper that escorts the souls of the dead to what lies beyond.

The Blood Fare production recently made the announcement that they had secured the involvement of Gil Gerard for the role of Professor Meade in their film. Gerard is best known for playing the role of Buck Rogers in the 1979 movie and subsequent network television series. He'll also be seen as the father of the same character he once played in Buck Rogers Begins, an online series being co-created by some of the same team responsible for Star Trek: New Voyages.

Principal photography has been broken up into two stages for Blood Fare. The first wave took place a month ago and the second phase is scheduled to take place in late September in Utah. Chris Hanson, who's worked on Underworld, both Men in Black movies, The X-Files and The Green Mile, has joined the team as the special effects makeup supervisor. The director is J.A. Steel.

The producers launched a page on Kickstarter to raise additional funds for their project, setting their goal to raise $1,861 dollars to pay for costs for a five-day location shoot and crew catering fees. They have already exceeded their initial goal and with a little over one week remaining left on the Kickstarter countdown clock, they're hoping to push the fundraising bar higher and use the extra money to sink in more resources for the project. People that donate certain amounts can receive exclusive videos, photos, a digital copy of the movie and even their name in the credits.

For more info on the Blood Fare cast and project:

- Visit the official website on the Warrior Entertainment website.
- Facebook page.
- YouTube behind-the-scenes videos.

Early teaser trailer:

facebook

Corona Coming Attractions
 Gefällt mir
 Dir gefällt das. Gefällt mir r mehr · Administratorensseite
 Dir gefällt das. Gefällt mir r mehr · Administratorensseite

1,888,187 Personen gefällt Corona Coming Attractions.

Getting Buzz

- 5 Stephen King's The Dark Tower to be three movies and two TV series
- 3 Caprica returns in October
- 3 Warner Bros. has a plan for its superheroes
- 2 Nude Tron at DragonCon
- 2 James Cameron going native in 3D
- 2 All-Star Superman finds cast, release date
- 2 Stay warm with this Adidas Wookiee jacket
- 1 ABC buys True Lies TV show
- 1 Spec'd: Jonah Hex
- 1 Trailer: The Tourist

Popular Movies Cloud

300 sequel Buffy the Vampire Slayer
 Passengers Day of War Fighting
 From Paris With Love Cadillac Records
 The Invention of Lying Yes Man
 Ghostopolis Will You Be My Black
 Friend? Heartless Avatar
 Babies Underworld 4 Iron Jack